

Triad of the Sages

Contributed by C. Mason Hearn
Monday, 18 June 2007

In the course of some reading recently, I happened across this: According to the sages of ancient India, there are three fundamental processes at work in the universe: creation, preservation, and transformation. Interesting. Those processes are at the core of what we do in the design and building / renovation business. Unknowingly following the tenets of the ancient sages!!